

THE ANDERSON INTELLIGENCER

Founded 1886
126 North Main Street
ANDERSON, S. C.
WILLIAM BANKS - Editor
W. W. SMOAK - Business Manager
Entered According to Act of Congress as Second Class Mail Matter at the Postoffice at Anderson, S. C.
Published Every Morning Except Monday
Semi-Weekly Edition on Tuesday and Friday Mornings
Semi-Weekly Edition - $1.50 per Year. Daily Edition - $5.00 per annum; $2.50 for Six Months; $1.25 for Three Months.
IN ADVANCE

Member of the Associated Press and Receiving Complete Daily Telegraphic Service

A large circulation than any other newspaper in this Congressional District

TELEPHONES:
Editorial - 327
Business Office - 321
Job Printing - 693-L
Local News - 327
Society News - 321-

The Intelligencer is delivered by carriers in the city. If you fail to get your paper regularly please notify us. Opposite your name on label of your paper is printed date to which your paper is paid. All checks and drafts should be drawn to The Anderson Intelligencer.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Believe not an accusing tongue, As most weak persons do; But still believe that story wrong, Which ought not to be true. -Sheridan.

Washington, March 25.-Forecast: South Carolina-Cloudy with probably showers-Thursday and Friday.

Anderson is My Town.-The Civic Association.

Come on white way, we want to celebrate. Can hardly wait.

We would like to see the city turned over to the women for a week.

A little fair weather, please. Send it around on Friday for the school fair.

The favor with which the white way has been received is almost unanimous.

A bear escaped in the park in Atlanta. Killed him to escape the grisly hug.

Anderson College has at last got started. The future is brighter than it has ever been.

The citizenship of Anderson should turn out in full force to meet the visiting school people Friday.

Now that Robert Lansing is in the state department, perhaps he will be able to operate on Mexico.

The Palmetto Riflemen are getting into good condition. That should be warning enough for the Mexico.

Politicians doing the hesitation are advised not to rest into the ring. This is almost a prohibition state.

Brisey is so tickled over the white way idea that he is going to buy some of the posts for his own use.

The women are the tax payers, after all. Man gets the money, but how would he save any as a housekeeper?

Spartanburg is immensely tickled over the coming of the Interurban. And Spartanburg now has three trunk lines.

Some one has written of the place of poets in modern life. But in some states most such cases are let out on parole.

Judge Fritchard said that the young women have become disgusted with the new dances and the old women have got at it.

Blind tigers would ever do harm that dispensaries would. And then there were blind tigers when there were dispensaries.

It is a fine report that the school of the county make. Supt. Felton does not of course, claim all of the credit, but he has done his part.

The postoffice department at Washington is in danger of having its head chopped off by Wyatt Allan for reducing the number of carriers here.

We have heard of an Anderson young man who will have to leave here for a field for his talents unless we can get a railroad out of here to the west. He says Anderson is an island entirely surrounded by railroads.

EASY TO SETTLE

There has been some sporadic talk of enjoining the Southern and Blue Ridge from rearing the station all of the way across the "cut" on North Main street. The station is to fill the entire gap and to face out upon the new bridge which is under construction.

This work would permanently block the alley leading from North Main and would interfere with the hauling to the rear of stores facing North Main street and also on the public square. Among those affected would be O. D. Anderson, Parker & Bolt, the Anderson Furniture company, the People's Furniture company and others.

It does seem that as there has long been foreknowledge of this matter the persons affected should have enjoined the railroad company before this time. For it would be a serious matter to have the work stopped. And yet it is a serious matter for the merchants. We take the liberty to suggest that the railroad company might make use of the material from the old Main street bridge and cross the cut with a traffic bridge just in the rear of The Intelligencer office building.

We believe the property owners on the north side of the cut will be generous enough to give the needed road to get to the bridge from Earle street in the rear of Hubbard's jewelry store. In fact the city should insist upon something of this kind for fire protection.

We have no authority to speak, but we offer this suggestion and believe the railroad company will be as liberal as the merchants in making some kind of agreement upon a reasonable basis.

RECLAIMS PRISONERS

A few years ago in a certain county jail there was confined a defaulting bank official. This prisoner was small, kept in a kindly, common sense way. The "trusties" worked on a farm. They were allowed to run errands about the town.

On a few occasions this man was allowed to drive a wagon delivering chairs. Some of the metropolitan papers featured the story. It struck them as a primitive method of jail keeping, that a man shut up for a serious offense should be permitted to drive a wagon in the open air a useful service.

No doubt many people feel that such an offender should sit in his cell reflecting in a repentant manner on his misdeeds. This mood, however, has been reached long before. What was called for then was a different kind of experience.

People who follow magazine literature must be impressed by the amount of space given within the past few months to studies of prison life. One thoughtful man recently in jail says 50 per cent of the criminals could be reclaimed. It is claimed the great majority return to crime.

Many prisons are classifying prisoners and those giving promise of reformation are allowed more freedom. They work on farms or at trades that will some day give them a good living. They are finally let out on parole, and the probationary experience tends to fix a sense of responsibility.

As we have said before, we disapprove of the wholesale releasing of prisoners and shutting down of the state farm in this state, but we must admit that few and rare have been the cases where the convicts who were treated with mercy have gone back to lives of crime. We have been told that the instinct is latent, that the monster is sleeping, ready to spring upon being aroused. There is no evidence to prove this, but even should it be true, our advice is the proverb "Let sleeping dogs lie." If other words don't kick them.

Give humanity a chance to reclaim itself. Of course there can be no real reformation based upon human effort unaided.

THE BEAUTIFUL

It is almost a self evident fact that the great white way will be a good thing for the city. Why should there be anything beautiful? It is to elevate, to ennoble. The sordid, the unambitious, the selfish see no more need for the beautiful than they do for the good. The two go together, the beautiful and the good, "kai agathos, kai agathos."

At first we were not disposed to think much of the white way proposition fearing that it was about two years too late and that we would just be tagging along behind. But the assurance has been given that Anderson is to have the most beautiful of all the white ways.

Let us have it. The beautiful is none too good for Anderson. Let us have something to give us state consciousness, a point from which to let radiate our love for our splendid city.

Supt. Swearingen surely is enthusiastic over Anderson College, and just see what he says of the new president. Mr. Swearingen is the most observant man in the state.

SHORT OF GAS

It requires gas to run a newspaper. Laugh, dad-blast you, laugh. No, we didn't mean that kind of gas. We mean the real illuminating kind not illumination. The machines that set the type must have gas jets to keep the metal melted to be cast into slugs. Both Maude and Susy were in a fractious humor Tuesday night, the same being our two deadliest of the species type-setting machines. The gas wasn't coming properly on account of some work that was being done on the gas mains on the "bridge" near the office of The Intelligencer. All was remedied Wednesday, and we hope if any subscribers were late getting the papers Wednesday they will abuse the gas.

ANDERSON COTTON MILLS

The ladies at Bethel Methodist will have a parcels post sale at the Anderson cotton mills hall on Monday night, March 30. They will have 5, 10, 15 and 25 cents booths. No admission will be charged at the door. The proceeds will go for the covering of the church. Everybody is invited to come out and help this worthy cause.

Rev. W. S. Danner and wife were called to Union last Saturday on account of the illness of one of the children of Rev. Harvey Danner.

Rev. Mr. Lawrence filled Mr. Danner's pulpit on Sunday morning and preached a very interesting sermon. Rev. S. B. White preached Sunday night and all enjoyed the sermon very much.

M. P. Owen, who has been second-hand in the weave room in No. 1 mill for some time has resigned his position to accept a similar one at Pelzer.

C. E. Graves has been promoted from fixer to second hand in No. 1 mill to succeed M. P. Owen, resigned. Mr. Graves is a good mill man and his many friends are glad to hear of his promotion.

Ethel Johnson and Dick Simpson won the prizes offered by the Y. M. C. A. for the largest piles of trash.

J. M. Fennell, who has been with the Peoples New Furniture Co. for some time, has resigned his position, and has put up a store on Blackley street, where he will keep a full line of staple and fancy groceries. Mr. Fennell is a young man just starting in business and we wish for him success on every hand.

G. E. Abbott of Walhalla was in the city yesterday for a short while.

Our people are working their gardens for all they are worth. The trash has all been cleaned off and the wagons are now hauling it away. We are going to have things neat on this side of town.

Paul Fowler, who has been in Spartanburg for sometime is at home with his mother for a while.

All Odd Fellows are requested to meet at the hall on Friday night, March 27. The secret work of the Order will be gone over and those who are rusty in the signs, etc., will be greatly helped by this.

Mr. J. M. Mattison of Whitnair will be with us and will make a talk. Mr. Mattison has been living in Canada until a short time ago, and will tell us how it feels to live under a King.

C. W. Herring has moved his family to this place. He has been living at the Gluck Mills for the past five years. We are glad to have this good family come to us.

Don't forget the parcels post sale on Monday night, March 30.

A NOTICE OF CHANGES GIVEN TO THE PUBLIC

Pursuant to instructions from the Postoffice department, the following changes in delivery of mails in the city of Anderson will be made to take effect on, and after April 1, 1914.

On routes Nos. 1, 2 and 3, deliveries will be curtailed to one daily at Anderson mill village, Toxaway mills village and Adams mill village.

The street letter boxes located around the public square will be reduced from twelve to eight, and those which have been heretofore placed on the corners will be moved to the middle of the blocks.

The series of the parcel post carrier will be discontinued, and the deliveries of parcels made regular by carriers.

Respectfully, John R. Cochran, Jr., Postmaster.

HORSESHOE PITCHING

Rob Pierce, Champion, Opened the Season Officially.

Simultaneous with the return of the Sox and Giants from their world-girdling trip and the opening of spring training in the Southern camps the horseshoe pitching season was officially opened yesterday in Rosedale. Rob Pierce, "Champion" horseshoe pitcher of the world, took down some carefully polished and wrapped shoes, set some stakes in his "courts" carefully aimed a steel shoe at one. His second throw was a "ringer" and he announced he had never been more fit in his career.

Before the dirt was scattered about the stakes the ring of the shoe had reached the street and two contending pitchers appeared with shoes under their arms. White this match was in progress Pierce was called to the long distance telephone by some "fans" in Kansas, who desired to know of the champion when the season was to open.

Pierce heads a 2-man and a 4-man team and has never been defeated, either with them or alone. Last Thanksgiving Day he won a 72 tournament at Independence. Mo. He offers to defeat his title against all comers. -Kansas City Star.

With its unusually heavy snowfall this season New York has spent $1,241,000 for removing snow. By next winter it is planned to have several new devices in operation to simplify present methods.

CLEAN-UP WEEK.

NO, ANDERSON DOES NOT NEED PAVED STREETS

Congressman A. F. Lever Receiving Much Praise

Special Correspondence.

Washington, March 24.-In the closing days of the passing of the Lever Agricultural bill, Ezekiel Candler of Mississippi, a veteran member of the committee, paid a remarkable tribute to the chairman, Congressman Lever. The bill carried $18,947,232. Mr. Candler, after describing his own long service on the committee as giving him the right to discuss the matter, said in part:

"Having served on this committee during these days with this distinguished gentleman, I have had an opportunity to observe how he does things. This committee has never been presided over in its existence by a more distinguished, patient, able, or energetic chairman than it possesses today, and I assert that he has as much constructive legislation to his credit as any man on this floor of the same length of service. (Loud applause.)"

"I want to call attention on this occasion to one of the constructive features of legislation of which my friend is the author. You remember that in 1882 there was passed what was known as the Morrill Act for the endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college in each State where the leading object should be the teaching of such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanical arts. In 1887 there was passed what was known as the Hatch act, which provided for the establishment of experimental stations and scientific investigations and experiments respecting the principles and application of agricultural sciences. These were subsequent acts, one known as the Adams Act, which enlarged the appropriation for experimental stations."

"Then followed what is known as the Lever Bill, for the purpose of carrying the knowledge which had been accumulated and acquired through the other sources to the public. The essential lean of the Lever bill is to bring the farmers on the farm those information of scientific truths and to teach them the better methods of agriculture which the colleges and experiment stations have during these years been gathering. Past legislation had resulted in the accumulation of very valuable information. This bill proposes to disseminate it in the most practical and far-reaching manner through the men in the field."

"The gentleman from South Carolina is the author of that bill. He drew it himself, introduced it into the House, it was referred to the Agricultural Committee, referred to a subcommittee of which he was chairman, and of which I had the honor to be a member; that subcommittee unanimously reported it back to the full committee, which unanimously reported it to the House, and he stood by it through all the vicissitudes, and when it came to a vote on the floor of the House it received practically the unanimous vote of the House and went to the Senate of the United States and there received practically the unanimous vote of the Senate."

"It was remarked by the distinguished Secretary of the Navy, Hon. Joseph Daniels, in a speech the other day on the floor of the State of South Carolina, that with a man who can formulate and present a bill such as this, it is not necessary to procure the unanimous passage on the floor of the House of Representatives and the approval of the Senate of the United States, it is not necessary to go back to the days of John C. Calhoun, to find a statesman within the borders of the State of South Carolina, but in Mr. Lever, the chairman of the Agricultural Committee, you must recognize a constructive statesman who will always live in the history of this country. (Applause.)"

"I have watched his course with admiration, with pleasure, and indeed with affection, and I predict that as the days go by his record will grow brighter and bigger and rise higher and higher, and will only approximate its zenith when South Carolina does that, when occasion comes, which it ought to do, elevate him to the position of senator of the United States. (Loud applause.)"

SHERIFF'S SALE

Pursuant to execution to me directed in the case of D. A. Geor against W. N. Kelly I will sell in front of the court house during the usual hours of sale on Saturday of April, next all the right title and interest of the said W. N. Kelly in and to that certain tract of land in Belton township Anderson county containing 93 acres more or less and bounded by lands of W. C. Stone, W. C. Brown, John T. Dean and others. Terms cash. JOE M. H. ASHLEY, Sheriff Anderson Co. Dec 13th, 1913 Sheriff Anderson Co. 3-14 3-21 3-28

In Colorado where women have had the vote for 21 years, there has not been a single divorce between women prominent in suffrage work and their husbands.

CHIFFON AND SATIN FROCK.

Here is a dinner frock in grass green chiffon and satin, with a touch of brown fur. The contour is of gold braid, held about the waist with snap fastenings.

Our tailoring department has received its suitings and trousers from New York, and is ready to take orders for morning, afternoon and evening suits for the spring and summer.

The yardage of the various patterns - and there are quite a number - is limited. We do not desire to offer our customers too much of any one design, no matter how good.

Prices $20 to $35.

Order by parcel post.

We prepay all charges.

B. D. Evans & Co.

"The Store With a Conscience."

WHERE

Shall I Trade; Is A Question Constantly Agitating The Minds of The People.

Why Hesitate

Don't Forget the Store that has been for the public interests for more than twenty five years, and is just as alert today as ever before

Don't Forget Us We Say We've Got the Goods

We shall look for our Rural Friends Saturday

Shall Make Special Preparation

FOR THEM

Farm Supplies Our Strong Point AT THIS SEASON

Osborne & Pearson With Everything for Everybody